Advancing systems integration by driving high-quality, consistent delivery

Convergint value

Convergint's Global Design team is comprised of dedicated experts with the mission of generating design documents that effectively communicate project scope, enable collaboration, and initiate best practices to meet unique customer needs. This personalized approach results in the completion of on-budget, quality projects through the use of standardized and automated processes.

The Global Design team reimagines design workflows by centralizing data and coordinating across regions while remaining aligned with local service teams to drive project execution and measure achievement.
